

THE SWEET SMELL OF “HOME” AT THE MET WARNER CENTER Prospective Homebuyers Joining “The M Crowd”

Daily News, Saturday, January 23rd, 2010

Despite the challenging real estate market, 2009 sales soared at The Met Warner Center, a 1,279-unit condominium complex located in the heart of the San Fernando Valley’s Warner Center. The Met ranked #1 in sales for the Los Angeles County – San Fernando Valley Submarket, and #3 in the Greater Los Angeles County region with an impressive 168 sales through November 2009 (California Builder Market Share Report).

“As one of the largest condominium conversion projects in California, we are pleased that The Met Warner Center continues to outpace the market in both traffic and sales,” states Norman Radow, President and CEO of The RADCO Companies. “Both first-time homebuyers and empty nesters are joining The M Crowd, and choosing The Met as the place to call home.”

The Met Warner Center, a gated condominium community, offers one of the best amenity packages around for an active lifestyle including six lighted tennis courts, four resort-style swimming pools, two racquetball courts, a fitness center with a cardio theater, a rejuvenating spa, lush landscaping, intimate courtyard gathering areas and a clubhouse. The property is comprised of 16 three-story buildings and The Met’s units range from approximately 800 – 1,100 square feet with a mix of one-, two- and three-bedroom condominium residences, some with loft spaces.

At The RADCO Companies, each front door is viewed as a gateway to a lifestyle of unparalleled luxury, comfort and convenience. Our passion is combining real estate with superior service. We treat homeowners like partners, working with them every step of the way. Founded in 1994, we have developed successful luxury properties nationwide. Our most recognized achievements include The Four Seasons Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia; the 37-story Riverbend in Chicago, Illinois; and the Grandview on Boston’s Historic Common.

Our “Building Better Living” seal assures homeowners that we build on our legacy of thoughtful design, superior finishes and exceptional service. The RADCO Companies provide spectacular yet surprisingly intimate places that homeowners are proud to call home – places where expectations are exceeded every day.

For more information about The Met Warner Center visit TheMetWC.com or call 818.712.9717.

